HOW WE HELP!

HERO BOOKS ABSORBS ALL UP-FRONT COSTS

We have published books for 30 years, and we offer your club our skill-set and knowledge at no cost. We will work with you across editorial and design (offering advice and guidance throughout the build of your book), and once we have received the completed script and photo collection from you, we will publish your history in a beautiful hardback full-colour format. Your book will be published as 'print to order'.

YOUR CLUB CAN PURCHASE BOOKS FOR ANY EVENT

We will make books available for a launch event or any other activity throughout the year. Your history book is available to your club as 'print on demand'. Critically, we can measure the number of books you need at any time, so there is never any need to over-print or have boxes of books left in a store-room for months, or even years! We ask for a minimum first order of 300 books and, thereafter, reprints commence with a minimum of 100 books.

YOUR HISTORY BOOK WILL NEVER GO OUT OF DATE

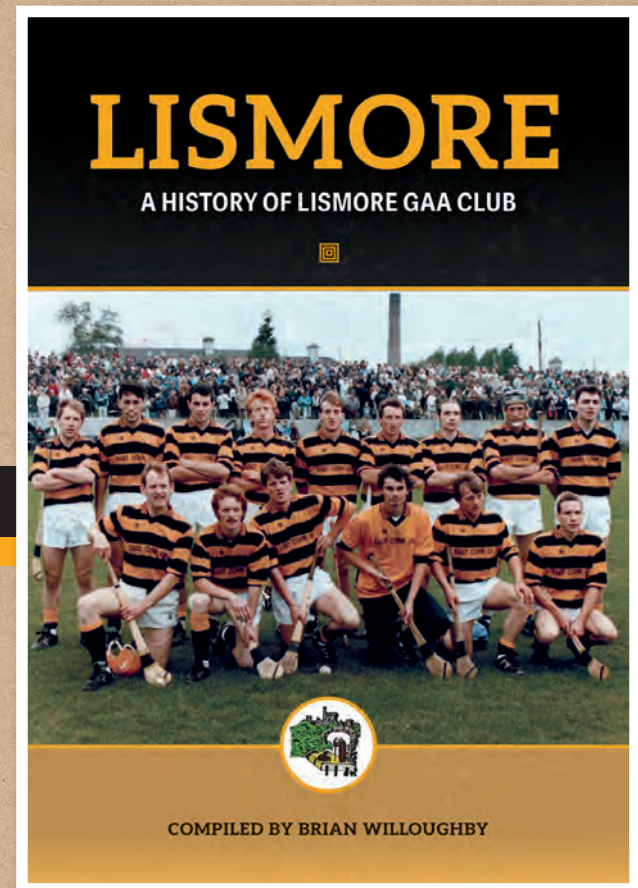

Most important of all, once we publish the full history of your club, it is then a 'living, breathing' book. It is not some book which was published in the past and, quickly enough, becomes outdated. Your book, if you so wish, will be updated annually at no cost. Every club, we believe, should use its past to inspire its members into the future. And with our help, your club can do so unfailingly.

1925 WATERFORD SHC FINAL

Lismore 4-2 Erin's Own 2-3

A first Senior hurling title for Lismore in the final played in Donigavan. In a close game Lismore held on for a five-point win over Erin's Own who were playing in their first final.

MICK O'BRIEN'S MEMORIES

Mick O'Brien of Park's Road, and formerly of New Street, a member of the 1925 Senior team gave the following account of his hurling career and that historic year for Lismore.

'After the Civil War, we started hurling in Lismore. We used to hurl in a field above the library although we had no authority to go in there. Eventually, we got the field from the Duke of Devonshire. At that stage we used to play up and down and not across, as it now the case. After a couple of years the field was changed around to its present position. We got good and won the Junior championship against Erin's Own, in Donigavan.

'We also played a lot of tournament games. On one occasion a local bank manager, Mr Bolton, put up a set of medals for a tournament which we won.

Hurling died down a bit after the 1925 win. Some of our lads went away, and I reverted to playing Junior. In the late-20s, I was suspended for six months for drumming with a band at a golf dance. Golf was banned in those days.

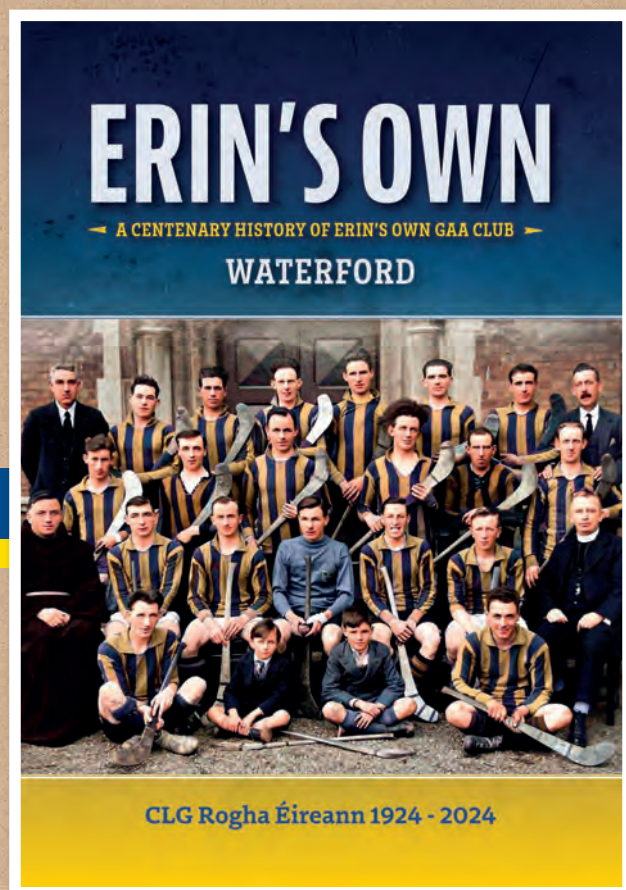

'I got so disgusted that I stopped playing hurling. I went to Clare in 1933 and I played with Ballynahally. I worked in Clare as a postman.

'During my time playing with Lismore John Ormonde, who had three or four sons playing with the club, was chairman. Jim Ross was also great to look after us. On a fine summer's evening we could have 40 men in the field. There were no cars, but it was no bother for us to walk to the field from wherever we were. At the same time, we did not have too many lads

'Aghinagh GAA Book Committee was floundering when salvation appeared in the form of Liam Hayes and MyClubHistory. At our first meeting Liam promised us that he would build us a beautiful book and together with our dedicated committee and Liam's encouragement, expertise and advice he kept his promise. Thanks to Jessica and the design team, Aghinagh's history is a fabulous publication of which we are truly proud.

While the book was being written, Liam was always at hand and even though he had his own opinions about certain things, he was always willing to listen to ours. At the end of the day, MyClubHistory delivered on what Liam said he would do at the first meeting ... "I will build a book that you will be proud of"

Liam Hayes and his team were an invaluable asset ... their expertise, guidance and professionalism were much valued by my committee and I can honestly say that without their input and support the 100-year history of the Avondhu Division would not be the book that it is. However, thanks to the excellent guidance of Liam and his team, whose advice was timely and exemplary, right throughout the journey on all aspects from format, presentation to design, we produced a wonderful 300-page, highly illustrated publication that truly captures the spirit of Confey GAA, which we as a club are immensely proud of'

About then I received an unexpected and fortuitous call from Liam Hayes who advised that his company, MyClubHistory, could design and print multiple copies and minimise the cost to the club. Dick Murphy's Memories

Dick Murphy was born in 1939. He is Faythe Harriers Hurling and Camogie Club President and is held in the highest possible regard. This is his story.

I have been an avid fan to my Harriers. I recall all you know long I looked at it but I was too busy to play with your Harriers ... they were great guys and I have absolutely no regrets moments of it all.

I was around 12 years old when the club was founded in 1949 and I do have a memory of it. I really remember it and have been going up to the games in Mallow, and Paddy Collier and John Duggan Murphy and a few others were up there trying to register a hurling team. They met after Paddy Collier to get involved.

Quddy Paddy's wife had passed away in a young woman. Paddy was married to her and she was a very good mother and a very good wife. He would have been the year ahead of his time in relation to his ability to think outside the box, being an innovative approach to training and making people like me a great guy.

In 1954 Faythe Harriers became a senior hurling club and proudly we have remained so ever since.

MEETING A KITCHEN COST AROUND €50 PER YEAR!

Around 1958 or 1959, I joined the Faythe Harriers senior hurling team, as did that as the other young ones. In the summer time Paddy Collier and I went up to the Harriers, which was used as our clubhouse ... 102, The Harriers, County Wick.

We would go into his house and change into our gear. During the winter we would have a hat in your hand. As you might expect, it got worse through the 70s ... uncomfortable to be Irish at times. But Fr. Murphy's and the Westford association in London were a big help.

I always felt Irish, and proud to be Irish for the decades I lived in the United Kingdom. I lived my time there, but it was always my hope to come back to Westford. I could say the same for every Westford man over there. But you have to make the best of it.

I spent 50 years in the United Kingdom before I came back to my home ... Westford. It was always my expectation to come back to Ireland. Ireland and the GAA have changed beyond recognition since I left in the 60s. Even in the mid to late 20th century, All-Ireland final day was a huge day for everyone associated with our community. London GAA would get an allocation of All-Ireland tickets every year. The secretary of the London County Board was a man called Tommy Harell, and he was also our club secretary ... I'd always get a ticket from Tommy. I'd come back every year for the All-Ireland final. And anytime Westford were in a Leinster final, I would come back for that. I raised my family in the heart of an Irish community in the United Kingdom. The Westford association was so helpful. My family and I would regularly go to dinners and dances. Not least, there were 50 GAA teams in London ... and they looked after you.

Everything has changed. I used to tug out in a ditch in Mallow. We had no dressing-rooms. Now the club has a state-of-the-art clubhouse. It was a different time. Now children can expect more, and that's fantastic. Having said that, as a child and young man, whether it was the friendships, the experience, the sense of community or the county championships medals, I got as much out of the GAA as this generation.

Half of an orange at half-time was all we needed.

Oliver 'Hopper' McGrath

Another somewhat unbelievable car story.

I was driving one night, and I was waiting one night in a dance hall in Carlow, to drive some of my friends home. The boys had a few jars on them, and mid-

"I love my family, but I'm also proud of my GAA family in the Faythe Harriers and I enjoy being part of the community. We just get on ... have a bit of craic and a laugh and help each other. I don't do it because I have to ... but because it is something I love doing."
